3. INSURANCE AND SECURITY

Tiny Himalayan supports clients travelers if they are covered by an insurance policy in their country of origin.

We inform you that you can purchase travel insurance either through your own insurance company or sometimes the option is available when booking your flight.

Please note that credit card insurance is effective for common situations but additional coverage is not superfluous for trips to remote destinations: Bhutan, Mongolia, Myanmar, for example.

The rationale for this policy will be required before departure or a liability waiver must be completed in writing on the following lines: "I am aware of the conditions of removal relief centers, care and repatriation will take place in which my trip, I renounce specific coverage and discharge my receptive, Tiny Himalayan from any liability in case of imperative and urgent need. Signature "

A medical examination is recommended especially for treks and stays above 3500 meters.

Claim a certificate of fitness to your doctor.

Before you go visit the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (in France) under "travel tips" or similar source.

4. TERM & CONDITIONS

In subscribing I accept the term and conditions without restrictions including "conditions of sells" and "terms of payment" (readable on home page website)
